Scott,

One final thought. I understand the situation but believe we're using the same system as your current agencies (the system is called Process Master), so all of that stuff is do-able.

However, that being said, I respect that you're content with the situation so I'll just wish you continued success And leave it at that.

Thanks again,
Jay

As to work, I cannot send you work at this time. In our industry we have a strict onboarding and compliance process. Without going through that I cannot consider giving you work. We also have a very structured IT process that ABC would need to code for to send us the data and media in as required.

Lastly, we are content with our process servers so we are not looking at this time. Sorry.

Regards,

Scott Morris, Esq.

Good Morning Scott,

Nice to see you the other day, glad you're doing well.

I spoke with our Attorney (who is on a beach somewhere) and he asked if we can get your Counsel's information, including email, so if your office can email that over we would really appreciate it. We will be giving our answer probably by early next week and I'm pretty sure you know what it will be.

Changing the subject, I've also attached one of our price lists just for the hell of it. I know you're happy using the bigger agencies, but who knows? Maybe you won't mind floating us a little work and we can save you a few thousand dollars every month.

Best Wishes For The New Year and Beyond,
